DUTY IN LIFE IMPRESSED ON 70 GRADUATES

Justice Johnson of Supreme Court Addresses Bismarck High Seniors

PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Students With Highest Marks of the Year Are Rewarded For Work

Realization of the responsibility resting upon each one in the conduct of affairs was urged upon 70 members of the Bismarck high school, graduating class, at the annual commencement exercises held in the city auditorium last night, by Justice Sveinbjorn Johnson, delivering the commencement address.

Justice Johnson admonished the students to continue their education, and to endeavor to grow not only for their own benefit and pleasure, but for the community and state as well.

The program was opened by the Boys' Glee club singing "Benediction" and "Dear You Cry, Ma Honey," both of which numbers received hearty applause. Miss Elizabeth Jones directed the chorus and Miss Genevieve Boies played the accompaniment. After Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite had made the invocation, Miss Helen Broome gave the salutatory address in which she welcomed the audience and explained the significance of the class motto, "Smiling Thru," the class flower, the purple violet, and the class colors of brown and burnt orange.

A vocal duet "The Light of Morning" was sung by Mrs. D. C. Seehorn and Mrs. Frank Barnes in their usual pleasing manner. Mrs. John Hughes played the accompaniment. Miss Roberta Best who played a violin solo was warmly applauded by the audience. She was accompanied by Mrs. Hughes.

Robert Birdzell, valedictorian, gave a very fine address. He declared that he wished to express for the entire class the appreciation felt by them for the opportunities of attending such a fine school, for their teachers' inspirational direction, and for the support given them in all their undertakings by the people of Bismarck.

Prize Presented

Principal V. H. De Bolt in a short speech presented the valedictorian with the beautiful pearl and diamond pin given as a prize by F. A. Knowles for the ranking student. After the presentation of diplomas to the seventy graduates by A. P. Lenhart, the class song was sung and benediction pronounced by Rev. Postlethwaite.

The four students leading the class were as follows: Helen Crawford 94.3-29; Robert Birdzell 93.21-33; Helen Brooks 93.4; Emily Olson 93. Helen Crawford was not eligible for any of the honors because she had not received all her training in the Bismarck high school.

Can't Escape Responsibility

"One of the things we cannot get away from is individual responsibility," said Justice Johnson. "This is one of the fundamental laws of life and of all human relations. It is also one of the things most frequently overlooked or forgotten. We organize ourselves into groups, the church, congregations, clubs, and community groups, motto mention the political subdivisions culminating in the state, and it is much easier to shift the responsibility for the conduct of affairs upon the group than it is to carry it ourselves. Yet, this is one of the things that cannot be done because, when we do it, we violate a law which, though not enforced by police officers or in police courts, is nevertheless executed rigorously and without exception by the very spirit that permeates all social organizations: this duty is individual and cannot be shifted."

"In the first place, we become members of the community where we live and conduct our business activities. We are members of organized society because social and governmental organization is necessary to protect men against the selfishness and avarice, that unfortunately are a part of the human character. By living in a community, we necessarily assume obligations towards that community. The community provides a living and from it we get most of the things and comforts that make life worth living. We owe the community, in return, for these privileges and comforts, a portion of our time, of our talents, and of our funds, in order to promote its general well being. It should be our desire to make it a better place in which to live, a place of which we may be proud, and out of which will come the best kind of citizens. Community pride does not mean vanity; it means a real desire to make the community where you live a place where men and women may come and live and be better citizens for having been there; it means that the community in which you live has a spirit, a soul, if you please, which

Editors' Note:—Request has been made by C. R. Little, Vice-President of the Bismarck Water Supply Co. to print a series of three articles upon the water works issue from the utility's standpoint. This article in no way should be construed as representing the viewpoint of The Tribune on the issue. The position of this paper on the issues involved have been made very plain editorially from time to time.

By C. R. Little, Vice-President Bismarck Water Supply Company.

The city engineer has now estimated that the total cost of a new water plant based upon his plans and specifications would be $700,000. Included in this total is the sum of $40,000 for his engineering fees, supervision and incidentals. It must be remembered that this last item must be added to the contractor's bids which may be received next Monday and as much more for engineering at the rate of 5 per cent as the bids may exceed the city engineer's estimate. In regard to his estimate there is quoted from the report made by the water company to the Board of Directors of the Bismarck Association of Commerce when the matter of a plant was before them for consideration.

"Based upon plans and specifications made by him in the spring of 1920, Mr. Atkinson reports that a new plant embracing a filtration plant and about eight miles more mains than that owned by the water company, in other words, a complete plant may be constructed at the present time for $704,420.

On March 12, 1920, the City Commission requested the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications and an estimate of cost for a complete water works system including a filtration plant. The plans and specifications were prepared and submitted by the city engineer to the Commission together with his estimate, which was as follows:

Construction cost	$747,003.00
Engineering and supervision 5 per cent	37,391.19
Expense assessment commission	2,000.00
Total	$787,394.19

His estimate now for the same plant is $704,420.

CALL FOR NEW BIDS FOR N. D. BOND ISSUES

Industrial Commission Rejects Bond Bid Made by Twin City Syndicate

NEW BIDS ON JUNE 28

Bond Man Denies Prejudice Caused Failure to Bid on Milling Bonds

New bids for purchase of farm loan and mill and elevator operating bonds will be received by the State Industrial Commission on June 28. It was announced by the Industrial Commission following its action late yesterday in rejecting one bid submitted for the purchase of a portion of the real estate bond issue offered.

Five Twin City firms combined in a bid of $14,440 premium on $1,200,000 5 percent farm loan bonds, or a net interest rate of 4 1/2 percent, the Industrial Commission offered $2,500,000 for sale. There were no bidders on $550,000 of mill and elevator operating fund bonds offered. The Industrial Commission was informed, Governor Nestos said, that recent issues of soldier bonus bonds by several states and other bonds issues totalling about a hundred million had temporarily depressed the bond market, and this was ascribed as the reason why more bids were not presented. There were several bond firms represented who were willing to bid on part of the issues offered but not on the whole issues. The Industrial Commission expects improvement soon in the market, and rejected the one bid made.

Surprise was occasioned because there were no bids offered for the mill and elevator operating bonds authorized by the last legislature, which are to provide working capital for the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks. A representative of the syndicate which presented the real estate bond bid denied there was any prejudice against this class of bonds.

"We bid on the real estate bonds because with the condition of the market we did not feel like bidding on all of the issues," he said. "The real estate bonds were longer-term bonds, and for that reason more attractive, and we knew that it was desired to sell bonds to finance our loans, so we bid on this class. There is absolutely no prejudice against the mill and elevator bonds."

MRS. EPPINGER DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Made Chairman of Jewish Delegation to Denver

Mrs. M. Eppinger has been appointed chairman of the delegation of leading Jews of this city who are expected to attend the Subscribers' Convention of the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives which will be held at the institution in Denver on June 22nd. Thousands of leading Jews from all over the United States will participate in this unique affair, which has been arranged in order to give the hosts of men and women all over the country an opportunity to participate in the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this institution and get a first-hand conception of its magnitude.

In the quarter century of its existence, the National Hospital, the first free hospital in the United States for the cure of tubercular poor, has grown from a modest affair housing sixty-four patients, to an institution with twelve modern buildings, covering a vast acreage.

In announcing the appointment of the chairman of this city's delegation to this novel convention, Mr. Manny Strauss, chairman of the Subscribers' Committee said:

"The responses that are coming in from the fifty thousand invitations we have sent out for a unique convention indicates that Denver will, on June 22nd, be the rallying place for one of the largest Jewish gatherings in the history of this country. The National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives has won a special place in the hearts of its supporters. They know it not as a place to which the miserable victim of civilization's greatest scourge sinks off to die, but as an institution where the victim of tuberculosis is given every possible scientific re-enforcement in an effort to win back to health. And in the hearts of its supporters there is the hope that out of the National hospital may come the method by which tuberculosis may be cured just as typhoid and diphtheria are now cured. That would be a great contribution to the progress of humanity."

The school board election is June 5.

WOULD BLOCK CHANGE FROM DIXIE COUNTY

Higginbotham's Counsel Wants Trial to Take Place in Cross City

STATE SEEKING CHANGE

Cross City, Fla., 25.—Walter Higginbotham, former convict camp whipping boss on trial for murder growing out of the death of Martin Tabert, today signed an affidavit protesting against a change of venue as has been asked by the state. The court also read into the record about 25 other affidavits saying a fair trial could not be had in Dixie county.

In his affidavit Higginbotham said he was not a citizen of Dixie county, that he had resided here only a short time and that he had no political influence and that he is not now in the employ of the Putnam Lumber Co.

The defendant's affidavit was re-published by 85 citizens and six officials of the county who contended that he could get a fair trial here. The state yesterday presented affidavits that a fair hearing could not be obtained in his county. One of these was signed by 95 citizens.

ABOLISH LEASE

Tallahassee, Fla., May 25.—Florida's second convict reform came yesterday when the legislature effected final passage of a measure to abolish the county convict lease system, next January 1. With this measure went a second and more emphatic prohibition against administering corporal punishment to prisoners.

The lower house adopted without discussion a conference report on the subject while in the senate fourteen votes were cast against the measure in which it was drawn. These fourteen members were for the most part those who vigorously had fought the passage of an outright corporal punishment ban, the effect of which was had when the governor signed a measure that directed the state officials to bar whipping from their prison regulations and the commissioner of agriculture properly acted accordingly.

Officers Banded

The measure as passed deals broadly with the supervision of convicts and requires that convict wages shall be bonded for $1,000. They are made subject to sue for damage for any abuse of their authority. The warden is made directly responsible for the convicts in his care and must make periodical reports to the commissioner of agriculture and copies of the report must be sent to the board of county commissioners of the counties in which the prisoners are worked.

No contracts for the leasing of convicts shall be permitted after January 1 next, and all existing contracts at that time become null and void. One county, however, may turn its prisoners over to another county's warden for the public roads, or they may be turned over to the state roads department for similar work under terms the two parties may find suitable.

Paris, May 25.—Thursday's ministerial crisis was dispelled as quickly as it arose. To be exact it lasted half an hour.

The senate will take the first opportunity to give unequivocal endorsement to Premier Poincaré's general policy and the president will insist this endorsement covers his activity in suppressing communist activities.

Marcel Cachin and the other defendants charged with illegal acts against the state are to be tried by the assize court as soon as the examining magistrate has prepared the case.

Premier Poincaré's position remains unchanged, for he undoubtedly will get another vote of confidence in the senate and probably in the Chamber of Deputies also.

Yesterday's crisis arose as soon as Premier Poincaré had been informed that the senate had decided that it was not competent to try the Communists as a high court. A few minutes later M. Poincaré was at Elvess palace with the resignation of the cabinet.

President Millerand took the position that the senate voted as a judicial body and that its decision therefore should not be considered as a vote about the competence to try the Communists as a high court. The president refused to accept the resignations and the premier withdrew them.

There were several bond firms represented who were willing to bid on part of the issues offered but not on the whole issues. The Industrial Commission expects improvement soon in the market, and rejected the one bid made.

Surprise was occasioned because there were no bids offered for the mill and elevator operating bonds authorized by the last legislature, which are to provide working capital for the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks. A representative of the syndicate which presented the real estate bond bid denied there was any prejudice against this class of bonds.

"We bid on the real estate bonds because with the condition of the market we did not feel like bidding on all of the issues," he said. "The real estate bonds were longer-term bonds, and for that reason more attractive, and we knew that it was desired to sell bonds to finance farm loans, so we bid on this class. There is absolutely no prejudice against the mill and elevator bonds."

MRS. EPPINGER DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Made Chairman of Jewish Delegation to Denver

Mrs. M. Eppinger has been appointed chairman of the delegation of leading Jews of this city who are expected to attend the Subscriber's Convention of the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives which will be held at the institution in Denver on June 22nd. Thousands of leading Jews from all over the United States will participate in this unique affair, which has been arranged in order to give the hosts of men and women all over the country an opportunity to participate in the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this institution and get a first-hand conception of its magnitude. In the quarter century of its existence, the National Hospital, the first free hospital in the United States for the care of tubercular poor, has grown from a modest affair housing sixty-four patients, to an institution with twelve modern buildings, covering a vast acreage.

In announcing the appointment of the chairman of this city's delegation to this novel convention, Mr. Manny Strauss, chairman of the Subscribers' Committee said:

"The responses that are coming in from the fifty thousand invitations we have sent out for this unique convention indicates that Denver will, on June 22nd, be the rallying place for one of the largest Jewish gatherings in the history of this country. The National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives has won a special place in the hearts of its supporters. They know it not as a place to which the greatest scourge of civilization's greatest scourge sinks off to die, but as an institution where the victim of tuberculosis is given every possible scientific reinforcement in an effort to win back to health. And in the hearts of its supporters there is the hope that out of the National hospital may come the method by which tuberculosis may be cured just as typhoid and diabetes are now cured. That would be a great contribution to the progress of humanity."

The school board election is June 5.

GERMANS ARE ALARMED OVER RED ACTIVITY

Seek Permission From French To Stop Reported Marches On Essen

STRIKE IS GAINING

50,000 Workers Are Estimated to be Out in Gelsenkirchen

London, May 25.—The German government is alarmed at reports that armed Communist bands are marching on Essen, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin this afternoon. It has asked permission of the French authorities to send forces of German police from the occupied districts of Essen and Gelsenkirchen.

STRIKE GROWS

Essen, May 25.—The strike in the Ruhr inaugurated by the Communists is gaining in numbers and now includes thousands of iron and steel workers in addition to the miners previously out. The latest to join were 20,000 employees of the steel works at Ranscheid, near Elberfeld, whose demands for a 50 percent increase in pay was refused.

It is estimated that 50,000 miners are striking in the Gelsenkirchen district.

The Communist commission of control today was still holding the police headquarters at Gelsenkirchen, on which it seized yesterday.

Conferences are continuing between the Burgomasters and French authorities for the establishment of a workers police force.

STRIKE CONTINUED

Berlin, May 25.—Dispatches from the Ruhr this morning gave rise for a time to belief that work had ceased in all the Ruhr mines, the correspondents reporting a general walk-out with assumption that a strike throughout the Ruhr had been declared in sympathy with the Dortmund workers. Later advices, however, showed that the strike was confined to the Gelsenkirchen area.

WOULD BLOCK CHANGE FROM DIXIE COUNTY

STATE SEEKING CHANGE

Cross City, Fla., 22.—Walter Higginbotham, former convict camp whipping boss on trial for murder growing out of the death of Martin Tabert, today signed an affidavit protesting against a change of venue as has been asked by the state.

The court also read into the record about 25 other affidavits saying a fair trial could not be had in Dixie county.

In his affidavit Higginbotham said he had resided here only a short time and that he had no political influence and that he is not now in the employ of the Putnam Lumber Co.

The defendant's affidavit was reported by 85 citizens and six officials of the county who contended that he could get a fair trial here. The state yesterday presented affidavits that a fair hearing could not be obtained in 95 citizens. One of these was signed by its citizens.

ABOLISH LEASE

Tallahassee, Fla., May 25.—Florida's second convict reform came yesterday when the legislature effected final passage of a measure to abolish the county convict lease system, next January 1. With this measure went a second and more emphatic prohibition against administering corporal punishment to prisoners.

The lower house adopted without discussion a conference report on the subject while in the senate fourteen votes were cast against the measure in which it was drawn. These fourteen members were for the most part those who vigorously had fought the passage of an outright corporal punishment ban, the effect of which was had when the governor signed the measure which directed the state officials to bar whipping from their prison regulations and the commissioner of agriculture promptly acted accordingly.

The measure as passed deals broadly with the supervision of convicts and requires that convict warrants give bond of $2,500, while guards must be bonded for $1,000. They are made subject to sue for damage for any abuse of their authority. The measure made directly responsible for the convicts in his care and must make periodical reports to the commissioner of agriculture and copies of the report must be sent to the board of county commissioners of the counties in which the prisoners are worked.

No contracts for the leasing of convicts shall be permitted after January 1 next, and all existing contracts at that time become null and void. One county, however, may turn its prisoners over to another county for work on the public roads, or they may be turned over to the state roads department for similar work under terms the two parties may find suitable.

POINCARÉ GETS GREAT OVATION FROM DEPUTIES

All But Communists Give Premier Directing Occupation Loud Cheers

WILL STAY IN OFFICE To Accept Resignation Of The Cabinet

GIVEN ACCLAIMED Paris, May 25.—The entire chamber of deputies with the exception of the Communists gave Premier Poincaré a great ovation when he entered the chamber for a continuation of yesterday's interpellations on the Ruhr. The Communists booed the Premier, but this seemed only to increase the enthusiasm of the remainder of the deputies.

Paris, May 25.—Thursday's ministerial crisis was dispelled as quickly as it arose. To be exact it lasted half an hour.

The senate will take the first opportunity to give unequivocal endorsement to Premier Poincaré's general policy and the president will insist this endorsement covers his activity in suppressing communist activities.

Marcel Cachin and the other defendants charged with illegal acts against the state are to be tried by the assize court as soon as the examining magistrate has prepared the case.

President Poincaré's position remains unchanged, for he undoubtedly will get another vote of confidence in the senate and probably in the Chamber of Deputies also.

Yesterday's crisis arose as soon as Premier Poincaré had been informed that the senate had decided that it was not competent to try the Communists as a high court. A few minutes later M. Poincaré was at Elysees palace with the resignation of the cabinet.

President Millerand took the position that the senate voted as a judicial body and that its decision therefore should not be considered as a restriction of the government's general policy. The president refused to accept the resignations and the premier withdrew them.

BANDITS HOLD UP FARGO MAN

Fargo, N. D., May 24. Two unmasked bandits, armed with 45 caliber automatic revolver, held up A. C. Sigelen, traveling passenger representative for the Pennsylvania railway system, in front of the Lee tire shop, 620 Second av. N., about 10:30 Tuesday night, and robbed him of $57 in currency and his railway passes.

Sigelen, who arrived in Fargo on Great Northern train No. 1 from Minneapolis at 8 p. m., told the police that he was returning to the Powers hotel along Second av. N. when the two men stepped out from the doorway of the tire shop and shoved their guns into his ribs with the command to stick up his hands quick.

Told to "Beat it!" After releasing him of his money and passes the two men ordered him to "beat it," he said. When he got to the corner of Roberts st. and Second av. N. Mr. Sigelen said he looked back and saw the two bandits dodge into an alley.

The police were notified a few minutes later and a search was made of the alley but the empty purse was the only clue found. All outgoing trains were watched and plain clothesmen were put on the job in a search of the robbers, but no trace has yet been found of them.

Austin, Minn.—"Some time ago I caught a heavy cold which settled on my kidneys and affected my bladder. I suffered intensely and had to take to my bed. They soon gave me relief, and not only that, but they eventually restored me to my usual good health. I took six bottles of Anuric, but it was well worth it for my kidneys and bladder have been in perfect condition ever since."—Mrs. John Zook, 103 S. Jay St.

BRYAN WINS NEW BATTLE

Fundamentalists Win Out in Presbyterian Convention

Indianapolis, May 21.—Action of the general assembly of the Presbyterian general church of the United States of America in adopting the resolution on the Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick case, sponsored by the fundamentalist and rejecting the recommendations supported by the liberalist element, was being hailed today as the great victory of the convention by the former group.

The fundamentalists, opposed to the liberal interpretation of the Bible as expounded by Dr. Fosdick, succeeded in forcing the adoption of a minority report of the committee on bills and overtures and directs the Presbytery to require the preaching in the First Presbyterian church of New York City, where Dr. Fosdick delivered his famous "Shall Fundamentalists Win" sermon to conform to the Presbyterian doctrine.

"As a medicinal aid to one's general health I consider Taniae has no equal," declared Mrs. Nevel Kilp, 1641 Broadway, Kansas City, Mo.

"Before I took Taniae I had been managing a chain of shops and through overwork my strength and energy decreased almost to the vanishing point. My appetite was very poor, and even the little I did eat caused terrible attacks of indigestion and my cheeks were losing their glow of health.

"However, four bottles of Taniae relieved my troubles entirely. I have a ravenous appetite, the healthy glow has returned to my cheeks, and I have the energy of a school-girl. I sleep as well it takes a giant alarm clock to wake me. I'm always ready to praise Taniae."

Taniae is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

MANDAN NEWS

Devise Plans to Repair Heart Dam

The Heart river dam troubles were thoroughly threshed out at a meeting of A. L. Bogart of the Power Dam Engineering company, which furnished the original plans, State Engineer W. G. Blair, and members of the park board Wednesday evening.

It was developed at this meeting that the selection of the dam site was made by the engineers of the Power Dam Engineering company, the local engineers, Mr. Hannan, government irrigation engineer, and approved also by Chief Engineer Stevens of the Northern Pacific railroad. The only deviation made from the original drawing of plans was in increasing slightly the length of the dam on the down stream side of the dam which was approved by the designers.

The cost of removing the dam would be greater than the cost of repairing the dam, and it would be foolish to do this after all the money expended. The only thing which can be done is to seal in the dam with steel on the exposed end. An estimate of the cost of doing this will be presented to the park board by Mr. Bogart in a few days.

Bill McCarthy to Direct Stampede

The proposal from Bill McCarthy, wealthy and widely known rancher of Medora, to assume direction of the Mandan Stampede July 2, 3, 4, was accepted at a joint meeting of the members of the Stampede executive committee as named by the Mandan Town Criers and the directors of the Mandan Commercial club held last night at the Lewis and Clark.

McCarthy has ranched in the North Dakota badlands since the days of Teddy Roosevelt and is known to cow-punchers and cattlemen of a wide area. He was one of the original promoters of the Miles City Round-up, which has developed a nationwide fame in the last several years.

Present Football Men With Letters

During the rally which was held in the Mandan high school yesterday afternoon members of the football and basketball teams were presented with sweaters, letters, and gold basketballs. Supt. Love made the presentations.

The following received gold basketball watch charms: Rodney Love, Melvin Williams, Willie Nelson, Eugene Burdick, George Newgard and William Arthur. Love, Williams, Nelson and Burdick also received basketball letters with two bars, showing two years membership on the team, and Newgard received three bars.

For football Williams and Nelson received letters bearing three and two bars respectively. Football sweaters were presented to the following: William Dopping, Dan Ressler, John Porter, Francis Gruenfelder and John Farr.

The boys were given rousing cheers by the school and the high school songs were sung following responses by the athletes.

Object to Children Playing in Streets

Complaints have been filed with the city officials of parents who apparently give no heed to their children risking being crippled or killed by playing in the streets and also to the dangerous practice of some children in stealing rides by clinging to spare tires and tire racks on the rear of cars.

City Attorney C. F. Kelsch today declared there is an ordinance making liable to fine parents whose children are permitted to use the streets as playgrounds as well as city statutes covering the other practice.

Complaint is made of children playing along curbs with the approach of an automobile try to see how many times they can cross the street in front of the car.

has developed an ideal of civic perfection which it is striving to attain in all of the ideals and aspirations of the citizens, who, because of intelligence, of education, of a clear realization of their individual obligations as citizens, are the leaders of the community. If the state has not in vain expended public funds in your education, you will become such leaders in your communities and you will build them up and help to create an ideal of civic righteousness which will make your community a pleasant place in which to live, a pride to your state, and a spring from which will ever flow a steady current of civic and of private virtue that will purify the great stream of life which we call the commonwealth of North Dakota and which, with other streams, makes the wonderful current of American nationality and American life. You cannot evade or escape individual responsibility for the kind of community in which you live. You cannot escape the consequences which follow as certainly as night the day should you attempt to evade that responsibility. To think we can, is folly, no less ridiculous than that of the ostrich that buries his head in the sand and thinks, because he cannot see, no one can see him. The consequences are ugly places in your community spirit, unwholesome community atmosphere, lack of spirit, community absence of civic pride, stagnation and civic death.

"We become members in the higher educational institutions, of fraternities, and in active life, of clubs and of church congregations. In your fraternity, the club, the church, the law of personal responsibility is inexorable. I know of no better rule to follow than this: So conduct yourself, take such an interest in the work, the purposes, the ideals of your fraternity, your club, your church, your state and national government as if you felt that the world would hold just you alone to strict accountability for everything."

of the United States and the duty owed to the government by citizens. "With the rights and privileges which the state guarantees, there necessarily go certain obligations which you are expected to perform," he said. "You become partners in the business of government when you become voting citizens. Certain obligations come to you at the same time, which cannot be escaped or avoided. There is a word in the language which is familiar to you. It is the word 'parasite.' It comes from the Greek word which means to eat at the table of another. It means one who enjoys fruits and benefits without contributing anything to produce them. The citizen who enjoys all the privileges and rights of citizenship without performing the obligations that necessarily go with them is a parasite. He feasts without labor; he enjoys the fruits of the work and sacrifices of others without rendering any service in return.

"One of the obligations that cannot be avoided and which is personal is the obligation of intelligent and unselfish participation in governmental affairs. The voting citizen is the only sovereign our institutions recognize. He casts the ballot that elects rulers, lawmakers and judges and is ultimately and individually responsible for the laws passed, the manner of their enforcement and the character of the government of the state and of the nation. If he be conscientious, if he insist upon the ideals of honesty and integrity in the public service, if he acquaint himself with the problems of government and cast his vote for the best interests of the public and the state, without regard to the selfish interests of individuals, he performs the obligations of citizenship as they should be performed insures the permanency of the government and of its institutions in their original integrity and purity. If he does not conscientiously perform these obligations, he is a parasite, unfit for citizenship and ought to be disfranchised. You, who have received the benefits of education and the enlightenment that presumably goes therewith, are expected to appreciate the importance of citizenship and should realize that your responsibility in that regard is individual and personal.

In summarizing the obligations facing each the speaker said: "Duty to our community, to the organizations to which we belong, to the state, to the nation; duty to our family, to children born and unborn, to the church to which we adhere, to the ideals in which we believe and to the God we worship—that is the duty laid upon us at birth, re-emphasized on occasions of this kind and always pressing upon us at every step of the journey. It is the consciousness of duty, when honestly and faithfully performed, that is a balm to the spirit and puts the conscience at ease."

After arranging with Justice Stafford to have the deposition taken, counsel for the defense said it did not necessarily follow that Mr. McAdoo would not be called to testify in person.

Mr. McAdoo, after resigning from the cabinet, became counsel for the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, a Morse concern, and in that capacity he made representations to the shipping board in behalf of his client. The government has charged that these representations were in fact erroneous, but there was no intimation that Mr. McAdoo had any reason to believe that the facts were other than as represented by his client.

At the trial Attorney Nash Rockwood, of defense counsel, undertook to break down the testimony of Norman C. Finninger, an expert accountant, that more than $300,000 of the first payment of $360,000 by the emergency fleet corporation to the Groton Iron Works on account of the contract for wooden hulls for the government was spent on "private work" at the Noank and Groton plants.

Devise Plans to Repair Heart Dam

The Heart river dam troubles were thoroughly thrashed out at a meeting of A. L. Bogart, of the Power Dam Engineering company, which furnished the original plans, State Engineer W. G. Black, and members of the park board Wednesday evening.

It was developed at this meeting that the selection of the dam site was made by the engineers of the Power Dam Engineering company, the local engineers, Mr. Hannan, government irrigation engineer, and approved also by Chief Engineer Stevens of the Northern Pacific railroad.

The only deviations made from the original drawing of plans was in increasing slightly the length of the apron of the down stream side of the dam which was approved by the designers.

The cost of removing the dam would be greater than the cost of rebuilding the dam, and it would be foolish to do this after all the money expended. The only thing which can be done is to seal in the dam with steel on the exposed end. An estimate of the cost of doing this will be presented to the park board by Mr. Bogart in a few days.

Bill McCarthy to Direct Stampede

The proposal from Bill McCarthy, wealthy and widely known rancher of Medora, to assume direction of the Mandan Stampede July 2, 3, 4, was accepted at a joint meeting of the members of the Stampede executive committee as named by the Mandan Town Criers and the directors of the Mandan Commercial club held last night at the Lewis and Clark.

McCarthy has ranched in the North Dakota badlands since the days of Teddy Roosevelt and is known to cowpunchers and cattlemen of a wide area. He was one of the original promoters of the Miles City Round-up, which has developed a nationwide fame in the last several years.

Present Football Men With Letters

During the rally which was held in the Mandan high school yesterday afternoon members of the football and basketball teams were presented with sweaters, letters, and gold basketballs. Supt. Love made the presentations.

The following received gold basketball watch charms: Rodney Love, Melvin Williams, Willie Nelson, Eugene Burdick, George Newgard and William Arthur. Love, Williams, Nelson and Burdick also received basketball letters with two bars, showing two years membership on the team, and Newgard received three bars.

For football Williams and Nelson received letters bearing three and two bars respectively. Football sweaters were presented to the following: William Dopping, Dan Resner, John Porter, Francis Gruenfelder and John Farr.

The boys were given rousing cheers by the school and the high school songs were sung following responses by the athletes.

Object to Children Playing in Streets

Complaints have been filed with the city officials of parents who apparently give no heed to their children, risking being crippled or killed by playing in the streets and also to the dangerous practice of some children in stealing rides by clinging to spare tires and tire racks on the rear of cars.

City Attorney C. F. Kelsch today declared there is an ordinance holding liable to fine parents whose children are permitted to use the streets as playgrounds as well as city statutes covering the other practice.

Complaint is made of children playing along curbs who with the approach of an automobile try to see how many times they can cross the street in front of the car.

has developed an ideal of civic perfection which it is striving to attain in all of the ideals and aspirations of the citizens, who, because of intelligence of education, of a clear realization of their individual obligations as citizens, are the leaders of the community. If the state has not in vain expended public funds in your education, you will become such leaders in your communities and you will build them up and help to create an ideal of civic righteousness which will make your community a pleasant place in which to live, a pride to your state, and a spring from which will ever flow a steady current of civic and of private virtue that will purify the great stream of life which we call the commonwealth of North Dakota and which, with other streams, makes the wonderful current of American nationality and American life. You cannot evade or escape individual responsibility for the kind of community in which you live. You cannot escape the consequences which follow as certainly as night the day, should you attempt to evade that responsibility. To think we can, is fully as less ridiculous than that of the ostrich that buries his head in the sand and thinks, because he cannot see, no one can see him. The consequences are ugly places in your community spirit, an unhealthy community atmosphere, lack of spirit, community absence of civic pride, stagnation and civic death.

"We become members in the higher educational institutions, of fraternities, and in active life, of clubs and of church congregations. In your fraternity, the club, the church, the law of personal responsibility is inexorable. I know of no better rule to follow than this: So conduct yourself, take such an interest in the work, the purposes, the ideals of your fraternity, your club, your church, your state and national government, if you feel that the world would hold just you alone to strict accountability for everything."

of the United States and the duty owed to the government by citizens.

"With the rights and privileges which the state guarantees, there necessarily go certain obligations which you are expected to perform," he said. "You become partners in the business of government when you become voting citizens. Certain obligations come to you at the same time, which cannot be escaped or avoided. There is a word in the language which is familiar to you. It is the word 'parasite.' It comes from the Greek word which means to eat at the table of another. It means one who enjoys fruits and benefits without contributing anything to produce them. The citizen who enjoys all the privileges and rights of citizenship without performing the obligations that necessarily go with them is a parasite. He feasts without labor; he enjoys the fruits of the work and sacrifice of others without rendering any service in return.

"One of the obligations that cannot be avoided and which is personal is the obligation of intelligent and unselfish participation in governmental affairs. The citizen is the only sovereign; his institutions recognize him as the ruler; that elects rulers, lawmakers and judges and is ultimately and individually responsible for the laws passed, the manner of their enforcement and the character of the government of the state and of the nation. If he be conscientious, if he insist upon the ideals of honesty and integrity in the public service, if he acquaint himself with the problems of government and cast his vote for the best interests of the public and the state, without regard to the selfish interests of individuals, he performs the obligations of citizenship as they should be performed insures the permanency of the government and of its institutions in their original integrity and purity. If he does not conscientiously perform these obligations, he is a parasite, unfit for citizenship and ought to be disfranchised. You, who have received the benefits of education and enlightenment that presumably goes therewith, are expected to appreciate the importance of citizenship and should realize that your responsibility in that regard is individual and personal.

In summarizing the obligations facing each the speaker said:

"Duty to our community, to the organizations to which we belong, to the state, to the nation; duty to our family, to children born and unborn, to the church to which we adhere, to the ideals in which we believe and to the God we worship—that is the duty laid upon us at birth, re-emphasized on occasions of this kind and always pressing upon us at every step of the journey. It is the consciousness of duty, when honestly and faithfully performed, that is a balm to the spirit and puts the conscience at ease."

After arranging with Justice Stafford to have the deposition taken, counsel for the defense said it did not necessarily follow that Mr. McAdoo would not be called to testify in person.

Mr. McAdoo, after resigning from the cabinet, became counsel for the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, a Morse concern, and in that capacity he made representations to the shipping board in behalf of his client. The government has charged that these representations were in fact erroneous, but there was no intimation that Mr. McAdoo had any reason to believe that the facts were other than as represented by his client.

At the trial Attorney Nash Rockwood, of defense counsel, undertook to break down the testimony of Norman C. Finninger, an expert accountant, that more than $300,000 of the first payment of $300,000 by the emergency fleet corporation to the Groton Iron Works on account of the contract for wooden hulls for the government was spent on "private work" at the Noank and Groton plants.

Lay Covers For 40 At Alumni Banquet For Hospital Class

Covers were laid for forty guests at the banquet given by the Bismarck hospital alumni in honor of the graduating class of nurses of 1923 at the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Esther Teichmann, school nurse, acted as toastmistress.

Decorations were artistically carried out in the class colors of purple and London smoke. A large basket of sunburst roses, the class flower, formed a beautiful centerpiece on the table. At either end of the tables which were arranged in the shape of the letter "H" stood a girl dressed in nurses uniform holding a diploma tied with the class colors.

A pleasing part of the program were the musical selections. Mrs. J. A. Larson and Miss Lucille Bremer gave vocal selections. Piano accompaniments were played by Mrs. Arthur Bauer for Mrs. Larson. A reading was given by Miss Clarence Bolk.

A toast to the class of 1923 was given by Miss Lydia Neumeyer. Other numbers on the program followed:

The Vacation School

Yes, there are to be two more weeks of school, but it is vacation school. The fourth session of the Bismarck Vacation Bible School will begin and continue till Sunday, June 10. The classes will be held

At The Will School

The school will include all grades from Kindergarten to High School. Instruction will be provided free by an able faculty of volunteers. There will be supervised play, Story-telling, Singing, Bible Instruction, Learning the Great Hymns of the Church and Worship.

Each session of the school will be from nine to twelve in the morning including Saturday. There will be a picnic at the close. A survey committee will call Saturday morning at the homes and register all children who will attend the school. Cards will be provided with the registration of each child so that the work may begin at once. Parents are asked to send the card with the child Monday morning. Register the grade the child is in this year in school. Send the children whether they register Saturday or not.

Give your children the benefit of this intensive Religious Instruction and association with consecrated, Christian teachers. Do you realize that two weeks of Vacation School with selected teachers equals almost a whole year of Sunday School class work? Postpone that vacation and give the children the benefit of the VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL for two very profitable weeks of Religious Instruction.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THEY'RE OFF FOR THE SEASON

Bismarck welcomed organized baseball to the city yesterday—the first all-North Dakota league in which the teams are playing under the rules and supervision which have made baseball easily the greatest summer sport in the country. It is quite a task to put a team in the field in organized baseball to represent a city of the size of Bismarck, but hard work by boosters and support by fans has given the team its start.

The uncertainty of baseball makes it interesting, and the best club may look pretty bad at times. Thus, the real fans who saw the home club go down to defeat by a one-sided score yesterday were not disheartened. Instead they are pulling for the boys to come back.

The business men of Bismarck who helped make possible the inauguration of the league here this summer were impelled to do so not only because they wanted good sport in Bismarck, but because they wanted good sport for all fans in the Slope territory, and they will find a hearty welcome at the games.

FAMOUS SALESMEN

Napoleon in his youth was a book salesman. Early in his career he found his lieutenant's pay too meager. To provide himself with extra money, he canvassed from house to house, taking orders for a book, "L'Histoire de la Revolution."

When you visit the Louvre in Paris, make inquiries and you will be shown Napoleon's book-selling outfit, including a list with 200 names of subscribers who were induced to sign on the dotted line by Napoleon's eloquence.

You picture young Napoleon, slender, with burning eyes, knocking at a door in Paris. The housewife meets him with a scowl. Her poodle barks at the salesman destined to be the future master of Europe.

It was nearly as hard to sell some of those books as to win victories later on the battlefield. Napoleon made good as a salesman. He "had the stuff in him"—the fighting spirit.

George Washington also was a book salesman, canvassing from house to house, in his early days. At 20 he sold a volume, Blyden's "American Savage." It cost him $2 a copy and he sold it for $3. His sales, as recorded in his diary, totaled over 500 copies.

Washington had to make his own deliveries, galloping long distances with the books in his saddle-bags.

For these salesmanship angles on Napoleon and Washington, we are indebted to a speech by R. S. Branch of Chicago, before a convention of subscription book publishers. Branch's comments cannot be improved upon:

"As a book salesman, Washington learned the lessons every house-to-house salesman learns today—courage, determination, patience and resourcefulness that helped him in after life to win battles and achieve the independence of the American colonies.

"There were lessons in selling books, even for Napoleon. He learned what every subscription book salesman learns today—courage, determination, patience, resourcefulness and skill in dealing with men and problems. These qualities do not always make a Napoleon, but they are the foundation stones of success in every line of work."

All of us should find new courage and inspiration as we ponder these two famous book agents. Washington was an aristocrat, but he did not think the work beneath him. Napoleon was a genius, with ambitions for world power, but he was sensible enough to make the most of every opportunity for advancement, however small, as it came.

Future Napoleons and George Washingtons, now in 1923, are also struggling for a start—selling books, clerking, keeping accounts, studying at night—in short, toiling at the humble tasks of life. Whether we later will have a bigger job to handle depends to large extent on how well we handle the present job.

Every job can be made a stepping-stone to better things.

EXHORTING

Old-time bookbinders at the Levey Printing plant in Indianapolis comment that in the old days Bibles were rebound over and over again, while now there are very few.

Does this mean our generations is using the Bible less? Not according to the binders. Their theory is that there are not as many "fighting parsons" now as there used to be, and the Bibles do not receive such rough treatment. This will start many gray-haired people reminiscing. Do you remember when a preacher could be heard a block away on a clear summer's night when the church windows were open?

MAZUMA

More money is deposited in the banks now than ever before in history. Combined bank deposits total 43 billion dollars, or $390 for every man, woman and child. Figure it up for your family, whether you are above or below the average.

A queer thing: No one seems to have as much money now as during the big boom of 1919 (barring the very rich), but bank deposits are nearly 6 billion dollars more than then. A fabulously rich country, these United States. Money in the bank is not more than a sixth of our national wealth.

PERFUMES

Napoleon before and after battles bathed his head and shoulders in perfume. Mr. Mason writes in a recent Mentor Magazine.

He used perfume as a substitute for a bath. That was why perfumes were invented—to counteract lack of sanitation. Running water and the bath-tub enable us to get near each other without scent camouflage.

Maybe you wonder why good perfumes are so expensive. It takes three million roses to yield one pound of rose essence.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of the question, and that the discussion be kept on the level of the day.

TO AN ANXIOUS FRIEND

William Allen White's editorial in the Emporia Gazette during his controversy with Governor Allen of Kansas. The editorial won the Pulitzer prize for 1922.

You tell me that law is above freedom of utterance. And I reply that you can have no wise laws nor free enforcement of wise laws unless there is free expression of the wisdom of the people—and, alas, their folly with it. But if there is freedom, folly will die of its own poison, and the wisdom will survive. That is the history of the race. It is proof of man's kinship with God.

You say that freedom of utterance is not for time of stress, and I reply with the sad truth that only in time of stress is freedom of utterance in danger. No one questions it in calm days, because it is not needed. And the reverse is true also: only when free utterance is expressed is it needed, and when it is needed, it is most vital to justice. Peace is good. But if you are interested in peace through force and without free discussion, that is as free utterance as you can get. In order your interest in justice is slight. And peace without justice is tyranny, no matter how you may sugar coat it with expediency. This state today is in more danger from suppressing than from violence, because in the end, suppression leads to violence. Violence, indeed, is the child of suppression. Whoever pleads for justice helps to keep the peace, and whoever tramples upon the plea for justice, tempts to mischief in the name of peace, only to raise peace and kills something fine in the heart of man which has put there when we first came upon the earth. When that is killed, brute force must be used on each side of the line.

So, dear friend, put fear out of your heart. This nation will survive, this state will prosper, the orderly business of life will go forward if only such men speak in whatever way they can, and utter what their hearts hold—by voice, by printed card, by letter, or by press. Reason never has failed. Only force and repression have made the wrecks in the world—Emperors, Goliaths.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Everybody down in Raggy Land was very busy. And you'll never guess what they were doing.

Painting!

Nancy and Nick and all the little Raggies, including Mister Tatters, were dipping paint brushes into buckets of red paint and painting.

They were painting queer-looking little things—round all over except for a little point that stuck down, and they smelled like radishes.

They smelled like radishes because they were radishes. That's what the Raggies were doing, coloring the radishes nice and red in Farmer Brown's sassa-path garden.

The sassa-path garden being overhead, the radishes stuck down through the ceiling in Raggy Land underneath, in long, even rows, and the Raggies had to reach up to work.

At first they had only been little slender things, like straws. Then each day they got fatter and fatter until they were as round as marbles.

That's when the painting began. The Twins, who were as small as the Raggies themselves, having their magic shoes, worked ever so hard. Nick had just about finished one of his rows when Rag Tag, one of the busiest little Raggies, yelled "Oh, look!"

Just in time, too, for an army of cut worms, attracted by the smell, had decided to make a lunch of the radishes, and had poked their heads through the ground.

It took the Raggies several minutes to drive them away with broom handles. But at last every one of the cut worms was gone.

"My," said Nancy, "I don't believe Farmer Brown knows how much obliged he should be to the Raggies."

Pupils Build "Life-sized" Bungalow Within School

In the new Technical High School at Omaha, Neb., the pupils will be given the same experience of building a complete bungalow, "life-sized" and ready for occupancy, the entire construction taking place within the high-school building itself. Doors large enough to permit the pupils' structure to be moved out of the building on rollers and disposed of for a real home have been provided. Those who are authorities on teaching of children declare that this method of instructing them arouses their interest a hundred-fold as compared with that they display in building miniature houses and other articles. The school is planned throughout on this idea. In the auto department, a 3-ton crane enables the pupils to work on real automobiles.

Machine Cuts and Cores Grapefruit

A novel machine has been devised that cores grapefruit and cuts it from the outer rind, in a neat, clean manner and about five times as fast as it can be done by hand. The machine is equipped with a pair of curved blades so arranged that when a crank is turned, one of them cuts the fruit just inside the rind, and the other completes a circle around the center, cutting out the core. The half grapefruit to be cut and cored is held in place in a cup-shaped holder below these knives. Thus, by a simple twist of the wrist, the grapefruit is ready to be served in a moment's time.

grievances I do not quite understand. Of course, dear Sally, I am highly flattered that you make me such a confidant, but never having been married myself and being still under thirty I sometimes feel that I must be somewhat inadequate in the capacity of adviser in chief of either you or Lashie.

Yes, my dear Sally, the very day I got your letter I received one from Lashie in which he said with much truth that it was the little annoyances of life that made up modern married life.

She almost made me believe that she had made out her case until I received your letter.

You are wrestling with a great problem, dear Sally, and perhaps it does you a great deal of good to be able to tell it all to me. I am sure if you wish to tell me and it helps you, I am only too glad to hear it.

But as much as I might say, as much as I might advise, your problem is one which no one can solve for you. You see, you are afraid you are afraid because you have not the sympathy for Sam you might have. You also wonder if anyone knows how to handle the marriage.

Although I have not experienced these reactions myself I believe that they come to every married woman some time in her life and usually it is within the first three years.

In the first place, Sally dear, I wonder if you remember the words, "Love, honor and cherish, until death do you part?" Some women have loved and cherished a man all their lives after it has been impossible to honor him.

Sam is a good man, a charming man. He is only weak and I do not think that you have any right to pity yourself, to the exclusion of feeling sorry for him or of this terrible thing that has come to your husband.

FLOWING GOLD

PRINTED BY ALBERT H. BROWN, BISMARCK, N. D.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Calvin Gray comes to Dallas and rents the most expensive suite in the most exclusive hotel. He becomes friendly with Gus Briskow and meets Ma Briskow, Allegheny, the daughter, and Oank, the son, nicknamed Bud. Gray hires Majlow and two associates, to watch the activities in the oil fields of Colonel Henry Nelson who is his enemy. Gray is in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. He goes to Nelson's office and warns him that he means to smash him financially. Nelson defies Gray and promises to make the fight a hot one.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY
Meanwhile it became evident that the alarming rumor about Desert Scorpion was rapidly spreading, for other investors were climbing the stairs now and the office was becoming crowded. The later arrivals were in time to witness McWade finally defer to his partner and to hear him announce that a rare stroke of fortune had favored purchasers of this particular issue of stock for the land which really belonged to the company had turned out to be much more valuable than which it owned. Certain information from the field had arrived that very day which was bound to send the stock to two dollars.

The refunding of money halted; there was a deal of noisy argument. Some of the disgruntled investors still insisted upon selling out; others decided to hold on; even a few asked to repurchase the stock they had turned out to be. As this they were reluctantly permitted to do at an advance of fifty percent.

When the last caller had disappeared, Gray inquired, curiously: "How are you going to make good on your assertion that the stock will rise?"

"Easy!" said Stoner. "I'll change into my old clothes, put four mud chains on my car and drive up to the exchange in a hurry then give the glibby guy—me to a dollar and a half—all he can get. After that I'll shoot out of town with the cut out open. Then I'll be a string of cars after me inside of half an hour, and the stock will be up before I can get back."

CHAPTER XIII
Mrs. Ring Is Surprised
Ma Briskow always had been known as a woman without guile, but of late she had developed rare powers of dissimulation. She was, in fact, leading a double life and neither her husband nor her daughter suspected the extent of her deception.

Yes, Ma had slipped the leash. She was a robber baroness; she dwelt in a ratty "fastness"—whatever that was—surrounded by a crew of cut-throats as desperate as any that ever drew cutlath and dagger, and she ruled them not only by native strength of character, but also by the air of other forces, for she was on friendly terms with the more prominent wood sprites, fairies, and the like, and they brought her wisdom.

The North Hotel was altogether too rich for Gus Briskow's blood, so he sought a more congenial environment. He found it in the village in a lively stable; there, amid familiar odors and surroundings both agreeable and economical, he spent most of his time, leaving Ma to amuse herself and Alle to pursue her routine of studies laid down by her tutors.

Now Ma had not gone wild all at once; her attitude had been gradual—the result of her persistent explorations. Ever deeper into the wilderness she penetrated, but with the elation of an old fox returning to his lair, for she was always being followed by wicked people, having baffled them all, she laughed scornfully, flung deep to the winds then hurried straight to the "fastness," and there uttered the trial call. At the sound her gypsy band came bounding forth to meet her.

Having accepted their homage and heard the details of their latest raids against her enemy, the false Duke of Dallas—he whose treachery had made her what she was—she assumed her throne and held formal court.

The throne was a low flat rock beside a stream, and usually Ma removed her shoes and stockings and puddled her feet in the water while she gave audience to visiting potentates.

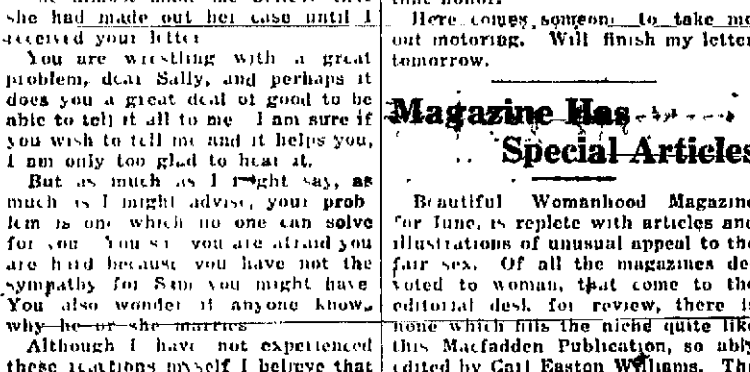

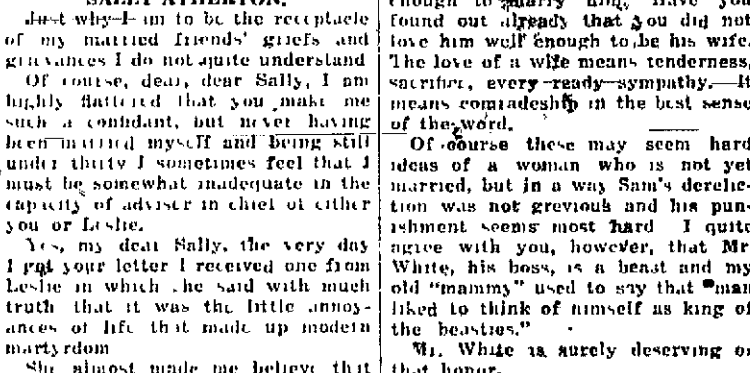

Thus would Ma Briskow spend one morning. Another perhaps she would be an altogether different character, but always she was young and beautiful and full of grace, and only when it came time to do so she assume the disguise of an aged, wrinkled, bent old woman. Sometimes she ran miles and miles at a stretch, darting, springing like a cat, rushing through the soft, green leaves, leaping rock and rill, her laughter echoing, her bare limbs flashing, her gold hair streaming, her scanty silken draperies whipped to shreds behind her by the very swiftness of her going. Oh, the ecstasy of that! The excitement! Of course Ma did not actually run. Neither did her bare limbs flash—being incased in flannels. And her hair was not gold. It was gray, what little there was of it. No, she ambled a bit, perhaps, where the grass was short and the ground smooth, then she stood still, closed her eyes, and ran and leaped and swayed and darted—with her arms. Anybody can do it.

Ma Briskow had never dreamed that the world was so clean. She blessed God for making oil to lie in the rocks of the earth and she prayed that none of "them hotel people" would discover her retreat.

Ma Briskow had never dreamed that the world was so clean. She blessed God for making oil to lie in the rocks of the earth and she prayed that none of "them hotel people" would discover her retreat.

MINOT'S TEAM TAKES OPENER IN N. D. LEAGUE

Defeats Bismarck Club, 11 to 2, in First Game of the Season Here

GET A GOOD SEND-OFF

Band Music, Tossing of First Ball by Governor and Mess-age from League Head

The Minot and Bismarck baseball clubs in the North Dakota State League got a rousing send-off from upwards of 300 fans of Bismarck and Minot yesterday afternoon at the local ball park, with a message from the president of the league, a good luck wish by Governor Nestos and pep music by the Elks' band. The game also started out in tune with the occasion, but Minot spoiled the party in the eighth and ninth innings by scoring seven runs. The final score shows the Magicians winning from the local club, 11 to 2.

Judge E. T. Burke read a message from President Powell of the league and introduced Governor Nestos, who tossed out the first ball, officially opening the season and making some brief remarks in which he declared confidence that the North Dakota State League would be a welcome addition to the sportsman-ship of the state. The Elks' band boys had volunteered to furnish music downtown and at the game.

The two teams play again at 6:15 today, and the fans are far from discouraged over the first game. Every one has his off day, and the score doesn't read much different from the big league early season scores. Some bits of fine fielding on both sides rewarded the fans.

Minot had on the mound Lief, who had a fling with the Chicago White Sox and looked mighty good in the box. Bismarck had in the box Jennings, pitching ace of the Iron Range. Lief struck out nine and Jennings five, and the former gave four free trips to first base. Jennings, while Lief was very wild at the start, gave five bases on balls. Minot got but four hits off Jennings until the eighth inning, errors being chiefly responsible for Minot's runs until then.

Manager Tom Shanley, a familiar face to many Bismarck fans because he played here in 1916 and 1917 when just a kid, got away to a good start with two hits. He slammed out a three bagger with two on bases, one run being spoiled when Empire Tony Pleva said Lief didn't touch third base. Lief, however, contributed a clean catch in the next inning to make up for it, doubling Lief at second.

Hettman, a pitcher, played in left for Bismarck. Shanley has a heavy hitting fielder on the way, who should arrive today or tomorrow. The box score:

JAMESTOWN IS EASY WINNER IN FIRST GAME

Jamestown, N. D., May 25.—James-town took the opening game of the New Rockford-Carrington series at Carrington by the score of 16 to 10, although Pickering used three men on the mound. Keegan walked three and allowed two hits in the first, and was pulled in the fourth for Innes. The score was 14 to 2 at the end of the fourth. Innes was taken out in the sixth and a south-paw, Ryan, put in. Buck Enger pitched the entire route for James-town. It was a loose, score game. Whiting, Jamestown manager, will start Gashelshen in the game today at New Rockford.
Jamestown got 17 hits to 11 for New Rockford.

GREAT FALLS ALSO AWAITS FIGHT RUSH

By NEA Service.
Great Falls, Mont., May 25.—Great Falls is 100 miles from Shelby—but it's looking for the fight rush, too.
Hundreds of persons are expected to seek sleeping quarters here rather than run the risk of going sleepless in Shelby.
Hotels are anticipating big crowds. And the Great Falls Commercial Club has gone further. It is establishing a rooming bureau to take care of the overflow.

BOY SPEED KING

Harlan Fengler, 23, is making his first appearance in an international race, at Indianapolis, Memorial Day. Out on the Pacific coast he has been riding as a mechanic to Harry Hartz. With one-man cars in vogue, he gets the most of his own. His mother will watch him from the stands.

SHOWS UP BABE

Pete Schneider, former pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, tried to make Babe Ruth look sick the other day. Pete, now right fielder for the Vernon (Calif.) Coast League team, knocked out five homers in a game against Salt Lake. Four in a game was the previous record. Only Bob Lowe of the Boston Braves, in 1894, and Ed Delahanty, Philadelphia Nationals, 1896, ever did that even.

Rival Managers Have Confidence In Vet Hasbeens

By NEA Service.
Pittsburgh, May 25.—Baseball produces many unusual situations. The cases of the veteran pitchers, Sherrod Smith and Jim Bagby, present peculiar parallels.
Last year Sherrod Smith was with Brooklyn. In the 1920 world series against Cleveland his pitching was the outstanding feature from a National League standpoint.
In 1920 Jim Bagby was the big noise of the American League, leading all pitchers with 31 games won. Last season neither Bagby nor Smith were of much use to their respective clubs. In two short years they had faded from stars to ordinary performers.
Brooklyn asked for waivers on Smith, Cleveland and Jones claimed him.

ELMER LIEFER, PARALYZED FEW MONTHS AGO, MAKES COMEBACK HERE

Elmer Liefer staged his comeback yesterday. Pronounced fatally injured almost a year ago, then informed he would be paralyzed permanently on one side, and made sightless in one eye by a collision while playing with Little Rock team of Southern Association yesterday by hitting Minot's team in North Dakota State League to victory here, and letting Bismarck down with but five hits.

Liefer was the property of the Pittsburgh club last year, and was farmed out to Little Rock. He was a star in the Association.

The Little Rock team suffered a heavy blow when he was injured. Three benefit games were arranged for his family after the injury, more than $6,000 being netted.

Liefer emerged months after the accident paralyzed but determined and hopeful. He began a patient and systematic endeavor to regain use of his faculties. How well he succeeded is shown by his splendid work on the mound in Bismarck yesterday.

A popular ball player in every league he has been in, regarded as a corner, Liefer is again starting on his climb up the baseball ladder, which before had taken him to the White Sox once and to the Pittsburgh club.

Cleveland asked for waivers on Bagby, Pittsburgh was the only club willing to take a chance. Thus the two stars of 1920 shift to rival leagues.

National League players think Smith is done, American Leaguers feel the same way about Bagby. Despite this Manager Spunker of Cleveland is depending on Smith, while Bill McKeebie of Pittsburgh says Bagby should prove a most valuable man.

Sometimes a change of scenery works wonders for a ball player.

Kinks-o' the Links

Has Robert Jones ever won a national amateur championship? Jones, while admitted to be one of the greatest amateur players in the country, has never held the amateur title. He was the runner-up at the Oakmont Country Club in 1919, and was a prohibitive favorite to win over Hiron, but was beaten, 5 to 4, in one of the biggest golf upsets of the year.

In a four-ball match Smith, Jones and Brown are on the putting green. Black is off the green, but closer to the cup than Smith and Jones. Who should play first, Black or one of the others?

In a four-ball match, balls belonging to the same side may be played in the order the side deems best. Black may go first or his partner, and if they can't agree on who should play first, then the ball which by actual measurement is played first from the hole, should be played first.

In match play, two players get on the green in three. After playing their third shot, a hard shower sets in that forces the players to seek shelter. After a delay of about 10 minutes the rain subsides and players return to the green. An afternoon of the rain, the players discuss a number of large worms on the green. It so happens that several worms are on a direct line between the cup and one of the player's ball. Has the player the right to brush them aside with his clubhead before making his putt?

The worms are regarded as loose impediment, and while the player has the right to remove them, he must pick them up in so doing. In brushing aside the worms with his clubhead he would be touching the line of play with his club, a breach of the rules, which could cause him the loss of the hole.

ADJUSTERS GO TO HOMES AFTER MEETING HERE

With Commissioner of Insurance S. A. Olness and Manager of the state hail department Martin Hagen feeling that market good was accomplished at the conference here with about 50 hail adjusters, final plans now are in course of preparation for the work of the season.

Mr. Hagen told the adjusters that they were called in for the purpose of standardizing the adjustment work and introduced Commissioner Olness, whom he said was more responsible for the department than himself. Mr. Olness, in speaking to the adjusters said that the department had been successful in its conduct, that the cost of the state insurance of 6 percent, private companies 7 1/2 to 14 percent with an average of 10.7 percent.

Governor Nestos emphasized to the adjusters the necessity of performing their work conscientiously and with judgment, saying that upon the fairness of their actions depended the work of the department in large degree. Uniformity in adjustment, he said, was necessary. Commissioner Olness and Mr. Hagen, he said, had done their work satisfactorily and he was privileged to re-appoint Mr. Hagen. He said he disagreed with Mr. Olness in his belief that the Bank of North Dakota could handle the hail warrants, because public funds were idle for so short a time. He gave Mr. Olness credit for aid in the negotiations to sell warrants to private firms.

CONNIE MACK AGAIN TAKES STAGE CENTER

For First Time in Decade Eyes Turn to Shibe Park, Philadelphia

BLANK THE YANKEES

Chicago, May 25.—For the first time in nearly a decade the interest of the baseball world is concentrated today on Shibe park, Philadelphia. All season Connie Mack's Athletics have been demanding attention and yesterday they got it personally from 20,000 Philadelphians who filled the park to see them defeat the New York Yankees, 1 to 0.

The Athletics' victory also was beneficial to Cleveland, which opened a series in St. Louis with an easy victory, 6 to 1, and gained on Detroit which bowed before Chicago 6 to 1. The defeat injured the Tigers from a third place tie with Cleveland.

By defeating Boston 7 to 1, Washington got into position for edging into first division should the Tigers flop again. While the Yankees were ending their winning streak of nine games the New York Giants were extending their hold on first place in the Nationals by defeating the Philadelphia Quakers.

Catcher Frank Snyder got his first home run of the year in addition to a triple and accounted for five runs.

Pittsburgh met St. Louis in the first set-to in the series that will decide the present tenancy of second place and won easily, 11 to 4. The other National League clubs did not play.

Cy Williams of the Phillies smashed out his 17th homer of the season before McQuillan of the Giants got thoroughly warmed up. Babe Ruth, the King of Swat, did not get a chance to increase his home run record against the Athletics, as the wise Connie Mack passed the sign to Ed Rummell to let the big fellow walk, which he did each time up.

FRAZIER NAMED

Fargo, N. D., May 25.—Because he was a member of the North Dakota highway commission in 1920, Senator Lynn J. Frazier is one of the defendants in a civil action filed in Ransom county.

And because he was attorney general at the time, Wm. Langer, who once opposed Frazier in a gubernatorial fight in the state is Frazier's attorney.

The suit was filed by Curtis and Remington of Lisbon, in behalf of the Thompson yards, one of the big lumber concerns of the northwest. The company is suing the highway commission as it existed in 1920 for $28,000, claiming that it accepted a faulty bond from J. W. Van Ornum the contractor.

Weak Throwing Arm May Force Mack To Bench Sensational Recruit

By NEA Service.
Philadelphia, May 25.—A weak throwing arm may ultimately force Connie Mack to bench one of the most promising youngsters that has broken into the majors in years. Reference is made to Center Fielder "Wid" Matthews, who has been holding down that position in the Athletics' lineup since the opening of the season.

Matthews is a mite of a ball player on the type of Willie Keeler. As a matter of fact, he resembles the late Keeler in many ways, except that he does not choke his bat. On the contrary, he takes a healthy cut.

Matthews is a fine lead-off man. Being small, he is hard to pitch to. In addition he uses good judgment at the plate. He is very fast and can hunt or drag in the most approved style. He is an excellent fielder, being able to cover plenty of ground and is a sure catch.

His one fault is a very weak arm. True, not many outfielders are throwing out men at the plate these days.

Matthews, however, is placed at a disadvantage because of his arm for on balls hit into his territory opposing players run wild. Knowing this, Matthews tries to hurry the execution of plays on ground and fly balls, which makes for inaccuracy.

His manner of catching a fly ball, a la Rabbit Maraville, with his hands cupped against his stomach, also tends to make it a more difficult matter to get a ball away quickly.

Matthews is a hustler. He is always trying. If Frank Welch of the Athletics, who has much natural ability, hustled like Matthews, he would be one of the stars of the game.

Despite several games that Matthews has lost because of poor throws, Connie Mack sticks to him, contending that his assets will win out.

MARKET NEWS
OFFERINGS OF
WHEAT LIGHT

Chicago, May 25.—With offerings here light and with Liverpool quotations showing an advance wheat took an upturn in price today during the early dealings. Some buying was based on advices that stocks of wheat in Great Britain are meager and that a further rise in price there is looked for. Pessimistic reports as to the condition of winter wheat, especially in Ohio and Indiana, counted as an additional bullish factor. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2 cents higher with July $1.17 1/2 to $1.17 3/4 and September $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 3/4, was followed by moderate gains all around.

No export business developed and in the last half of the day buying power grew fast. The market agreed and the close was unsettled at a range varying from 3-8 cents off to 1-8 cent advance with July $1.17 to $1.17 1/2 and September $1.15 1/4 to $1.15 3/4.

Chicago, May 25.—With offerings here light and with Liverpool quotations showing an advance wheat took an upturn in price today during the early dealings. Some buying was based on advices that stocks of wheat in Great Britain are meager and that a further rise in price there is looked for. Pessimistic reports as to the condition of winter wheat, especially in Ohio and Indiana, counted as an additional bullish factor. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 8 cents higher with July $1.17 1/2 to $1.17 3/4 and September $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 3/4 was followed by moderate gains all around.

No export business developed and in the last half of the day buying power grew last. The market ended and the close was unsettled at a range varying from 3-8 cents off to 1-8 cent advance with July $1.17 to $1.17 1/2 and September $1.15 1/4 to $1.15 3/4.
